OBITUARY

Emmet Proctor Granger was born near Newtonia, November 5, 1892 and passed away October 16, 1922, age 29 years, 11 months and 11 days. He was converted and baptised Friday evening by the pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. J. C. Gilbraith.

He had been ill for the past two years and for a year had been in a hospital at Fort Worth, Texas. He was a patient sufferer and his last words to his mother were, "Don't cry, Mother, it's all right."

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. A. L. Granger, two sisters, Mrs. Don Williams and Mrs. R. T. Judd, of Monett, and one brother, Gladden Granger, of Tulsa, Okla., three nieces, Gladys Tate, Kathleen and Margaret Lee Granger. His father and one brother have preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Gilbreath, Wednesday afternoon. The fourteenth chapter of St. John was read by the request of the young man's mother. The minister took his text from John 1:12, "But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believed on his name."

A quartet composed of Mrs. W. T. Vines, Mrs. A. W. Gilbert, Leslie Mason and Howard Gulick, sang, "Does Jesus Care", and "Abide with Me." Mrs. M. C. Shipley, organist. Mrs. A. Jones sang very sweetly, "City Four Square."

Pall bearers were John Farrow, Sam Rittenhouse, Ovid Vermillion, Jess Alderson, Richard Mills and Tom Devine. Those who carried the profusion of beautiful flowers were Mrs. Ernest Mitchell, Mrs. Richard Mills, Mrs. George Rice, Mrs. J. R. Taylor, Miss Jessie Burgess and Mrs. Hal Kirk.

Interment was made at the Odd Fellows cemetery at Monett.

SPRINGFIELD JEWEL BANDIT CAPTURED

Lee Donnell Smashes Window of Hawkins and Miller Store to get $1725 in Shrine Jewels.

Springfield, October 19.—Within one hour of the time one of the big plate glass windows in the Hawkins & Miller jewelry store, on the square, east of South avenue, was smashed with a rock at 10:30 o'clock last night in view of many standing at the corner, and five diamonds offered as prizes in the popularity contest being staged by Abou Ben Adhem Shrine, valued at $1,725, were seized by a small masked man, who disappeared up Elks' arcade, the police had Lee Donnell, a police character, in the city jail.

Donnell was arrested just as he was leaving his home, at 751 East Elm street, bound, he said, for Kansas City. In his attempted resistance to five policemen, headed by Captain Al Sampey, as a flashlight was turned on him he threw the diamonds, which he held clutched in his hand in his pocket out in the grass. He was overpowered and taken to the jail. Captain Sampey guarded the place until the other officers returned until a search resulted in the recovery of all five diamonds.

GELLING-BURKE WEDDING WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Mary Burke and William Gelling, of Rogers, Ark., were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. S. Burke. The wedding was simple but very pretty. The Rev. Mr. McSpaddin, of Rogers, Ark., read the double ring ceremony.

The residence was decorated with autumn leaves, ferns, quantities of dahlias, cosmos and chrysanthemums. Before the ceremony Leslie Mason sang "I Love You Truly," and "At Dawning." Mrs. W. F. Landrum at the piano. Mrs. Landrum played the wedding march, as Mr. Gelling's brother, Mr. Clark Gelling best man, and the officiating clergyman took their places before a bank of ferns and autumn leaves. Little George Folger in a white suit and Mary Jane Smedley in a pink and white frock marched in, scattering flower petals and carrying white satin ribbons, which formed an aisle through which the others of the wedding party marched. Sarah Louise Landrum carried the rings on a white satin cushion. Mrs. Alfred Rees, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride carrying a bouquet of white bride's roses, followed on the arm of her father and they took their places before the minister. The ceremony was very impressive and the responses made by the young couple were given sweetly and distinctly. Mrs. Landrum playing softly on the piano during the time. The bride wore a simple dress of brown panne velvet, with hat and accessories to correspond. Following congratulations a two course luncheon was served, after which the bridal pair left in a sedan for a short honeymoon trip, their destination being kept a secret. The car was well decorated with the usual placards, old shoes and tin cans and they went away amid a shower of rice thrown by their guests.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. S. Burke. She is a graduate of Monett High school and of the Draughton Business college, of Springfield. For several years she has held a responsible position with the Mutual Aid Union Insurance Company at Rogers, Ark., in which she received rapid advancement on account of her efficiency.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gelling, of Springfield, Ark., and is manager of a moving picture business at Rogers, which is one of a string of shows owned by his father. The young couple have rented a furnished apartment at Rogers and will keep house.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception were Mrs. Robinson, Miss Frances Gelling, Clark Gelling, George Carter and Harold Robinson, of Fayetteville, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. George Orr, of Mount Vernon; Rev. and Mrs. McSpaddin, of Rogers, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rees, of Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Spilman, of Wentworth.

Monett guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gardner and son Joe, Mr. and Mrs. Solon Wright, Mr. and Mrs. E. Folger and son George, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Landrum and daughter, Sarah Louise, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Bridwell, Mrs. H. H. Westbay, Mrs. D. A. Peters, Miss Pearl Peters, Mrs. H. M. McIntosh, Mrs. Harry Smedley and daughter Mary Jane, Leslie Mason, Fred Seamster, Misses Taylor, Alice Planchon, Helen Davis, Gladys Jeffries, Grace Malan, Arabelle Foster, Ray Akers, Georgia Denham and Louise Wright.

FRISCO WORKMAN - INJURED IN EXPLOSION

Achel Shipman, Frisco Fire Builder, Blinded When Dynamite in Engine Flue Explodes.

Achel Shipman, Frisco fire builder at the round house at Monett, was seriously injured at 2 o'clock Thursday morning, when building a fire in an engine. An explosion took place throwing fire and coal into the face of the workman, burning and disfiguring his face, burning off his hair and eyebrows. He was sightless in one eye and it is thought that the fire destroyed the sight of the other eye.

Dr. C. T. Dusenbury, Frisco physician, was called soon after the accident and he administered medical aid. The man was taken to the Frisco hospital in Springfield on a morning train.

The engine in which the explosion occurred was freight engine No. 4017. It came into the yards late Wednesday evening, was cared for as usual, the flues bored out, coal and water being placed ready for service. About two o'clock in the morning, Mr. Shipman placed kindling in the fire box and was lighting it with his torch, his head and shoulders being inside, when the explosion occurred.

Investigation showed that a stick of dynamite had been placed in one of the lower flues and it exploded when the torch lighted the fuse. W. H. Gimson, the foreman, examined the engine and found that dynamite had been placed in another flue. Three sticks, one 7-8 of an inch and two 1 1/4 inches in diameter, had been fixed with fuse and cap, bound together with baling wire and then wrapped snugly in a piece of bed comfort, the whole being again wrapped with wire. The package thus made fitted snugly into the flue, which is probably the reason it did not explode from the jar of the other explosion. The fuse to these sticks was three and a half feet long and it is a miracle that it was not lighted when the other fuse ignited.

The engine flues were badly damaged, but the engine can be repaired for future use.

Achel Shipman, who probably lost his eyesight in the explosion, was a young man 21 years old. His home is in Sparta and he is unmarried.
